Story related to Zero Hunger

Raju and Ramu both were classmates. Raju was a rich child who never liked poor people. Whereas Ramu was a kind boy even though he was poor. In school, Raju never shared his tiffin with anyone. But Ramu was different. He knew the pain of the poor people.

Every day Ramu used to see an old lady who was very poor. She had no money to buy food for herself. Ramu used to offer his tiffin to her every day. Then he decided to help everyone who will be hungry. He started collecting left over food from Hotels to help needy people.

When his teacher knows about it she tells all her students about Ramu's kindness. As a result, Principal awarded him with a title and a cash prize.

Ramu enquired to know the truth. He found that Raju's father business collapsed due to which they became poor. Ramu helped Raju in all possible ways. At last, Raju realized his bad attitude towards others. He also started helping Ramu in collecting food from Hotels to help others.

Moral of the story: Always do the right thing .

(If you can't feed a hundred people, then feed just one. )

— Mother Teresa.
